WHY DID HE
